U.S. Air War in Viet Is Far from Success

WASHINGTON (AP) — On the basis of Pentagon-stated objectives, the U.S. air war against North Viet Nam is far from a success after nearly 10 months.

Based on the same announced goals, there are some elements of failure.

These views are the consensus in discussions with a wide range of qualified sources within and outside the U.S. government, and are supported in a study of other information available from the government.

A main objective of the bombings, which began last Feb. 7, was to cut down the flow of North Vietnamese soldiers and supplies into South Viet Nam.

The evidence, chiefly the government's own figures, shows that despite heavy battle losses Communist forces in South Viet Nam are stronger in numbers than ever before. And U.S. officials believe the enemy has the capability of moving up to four more divisions into South Viet Nam over the next six months.

Another major announced goal of the bombing was to prod the North Vietnamese into halting their support of the Red aggression in the South. Hanoi's chiefs seem more defiant than ever.

Indications point to intensified U.S. bombing in the North around the clock.

This probably will mean a marked rise in the number of jet combat sorties, now averaging about 600 a week.

It also undoubtedly will mean more U.S. air losses. So far, 149 U.S. planes have been downed. The bombing targets are likely to remain essentially the same — mostly bridges, roads, railroads and ferries along the lines of communication leading through North Viet Nam.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara almost certainly would dispute any conclusion that the limited air war has been a failure.

Authorities reflecting his views contend that if it were not for the bombings, infiltration of men and arms would have been far greater.

Critics in the armed services and in Congress do not complain that hammering at communications lines obviously is not doing the job.

What they want is a wider ranging assault to knock out North Viet Nam's ability to sustain the aggression south of the 17th Parallel.

Cong Ends Lull In Viet Fighting

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The Viet Cong returned to the attack today after a brief lull in heavy ground fighting during Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's latest inspection of the war zone.

Another major buildup of U.S. and South Vietnamese forces seemed certain in the wake of McNamara's visit. He left for Guam Monday night with a warning that Communist North Viet Nam had clearly decided to escalate the conflict. He forecast a long war.

Within hours of McNamara's departure, the 85,000-ton nuclear-powered aircraft carrier Enterprise left the Philippines to join units of the U.S. 7th Fleet operating against the Communists in Viet Nam. The "Big E," the world's largest carrier, was escorted on her first combat mission by the guided-missile frigate Bainbridge, also nuclear-powered.

In South Viet Nam's central highlands, a guerrilla battalion apparently overwhelmed 200 government militiamen 15 miles east of An Khe, headquarters of the U.S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile Division. McNamara visited the American encampment Monday.

The fight took place along the Mang River, about 200 miles northeast of Saigon. A government company went to the rescue of the beleaguered militiamen, radioed it had taken moderate casualties, and then went off the air, U.S. spokesmen said. No American troops took part.

About 200 guerrillas attacked a Vietnamese Special Forces camp and a nearby militia post 90 miles southwest of Saigon, near the Cambodian border in Phong Dinh Province. The Communists fired recoilless rifles and mortars for almost five hours. U.S. spokesmen reported 15 Viet Cong dead and light government casualties, but no U.S. dead or wounded.

A few miles away the Communists released 24 captured government soldiers in what Saigon spokesmen called a periodic move to undermine government morale. Vietnamese military commanders fear these releases may encourage their troops to surrender rather than fight.

However, in the bitter fighting northwest of Saigon on Saturday, the Viet Cong machine-gunned a number of Vietnamese troops who tried to surrender.

The air war continued over the skies of North and South Viet Nam.

U.S. spokesmen said Air Force and Navy jets battered bridges, highways and suspected troop concentrations in the Communist North, while two air wings flew 399 attacks against suspected Viet Cong targets in the South. More than 200 structures, including fortifications, were destroyed within South Viet Nam, the spokesmen reported.

Deer Strays Into Pair Of Stores

KANE, Pa. (AP) — A deer strayed into a shoe store and a supermarket on the first day of deer season Monday.

Jose Grandinetti, owner of the shoe store, said a doe opened the front door by itself and scampered into the rest room at the rear of the store. He said he chased the animal out the back door.

The animal next entered a nearby supermarket by means of an automatic electric-eye door.

After sprinting down an aisle amid a chorus of screams from female clerks, the deer jumped atop a dairy case, scattering and crushing cartons of milk, eggs and cottage cheese.

Three hunters shopping in the store finally subdued the doe, carried it out and released it. They described it as "tired, but apparently healthy."

Water Hole in Barn Kills Clinton Farmer

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — A water-filled hole in the barn of Roy A. Fife, 74, claimed the life of the elderly man Monday when he somehow fell in and drowned.

Investigators said Fife dug the large hole in hopes of repairing a water pipe and that it filled with water.

Latin Nations Reach Accord

Sweeping Change In Policy Slated

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — The conference of 19 American republics ends today after laying the groundwork for a sweeping overhaul of the inter-American system.

Chief U.S. delegate W. Averell Harriman said the meeting was "of historical significance." He said its most significant action was a proposal to incorporate into the charter of the Organization of American States the social and economic principles of the Alliance for Progress.

The conference early today approved by acclamation an "Economic and Social Act of Rio de Janeiro" containing a series of proposed amendments to the OAS charter. It is a companion to political recommendations approved Sunday.

Both will be submitted to another conference in Buenos Aires next July for incorporation into the OAS charter.

The act states that "it is essential to incorporate into the economic and social field of the inter-American system, as juridically binding, principles of mutual security, solidarity, cooperation and assistance."

The act provides a blueprint for a great society for Latin America.

It calls for more equitable distribution and better use of land, better cities, stable prices and an end to inflation, fair prices and access to markets for exporters, reduction in barriers to trade, and economic integration of the hemisphere with a Latin-American common market as the goal.

For the first time the more-developed nations of the hemisphere will have a binding obligation to aid their less-advanced neighbors.

The act also calls on all OAS members to refrain from carrying out any economic policy likely to affect another member adversely.

The act urges joint action to beat down barriers against Latin-American products abroad.

SERGEANTS AT LIBERTY — Two U.S. Special Forces sergeants, Donald McClure (left) and George Edward Smith (right), have been freed by the Viet Cong after two years of captivity. The two have reached Cambodia. The Viet Cong said the two were released in honor of American anti-war demonstrations.

Campaigns Cost Near $2,000; Deadline Dec. 17

Campaign expenditures for the general election on Nov. 2, is already approaching the $2,000 figure with the deadline for filing the required statements more than two weeks away.

Pickaway County Board of Elections officials today reminded candidates that statements of receipts and expenditures must be filed by 4 p.m. of Dec. 17. Failure to do so, it was pointed out, will make a candidate ineligible to seek an office for a five-year period.

Ninety-one candidates had filed their statements to date listing total expenditures at $1,771.07. The great number of candidates seeking office this November was due to two township trustees' offices from each township in addition to city and village officials.

The importance of filing the statements was emphasized today by an election board employee who noted that two years ago a candidate for city solicitor failed to comply with the regulation after winning the election, but was not eligible to take over the office due to his delinquency.

FOLLOWING is an alphabetical list of candidates and the offices they were seeking, along with respective totals of expenses.

As he returned to his car, two gunmen surprised him. "This is a holdup," one said as he jumped in. Poole stepped on the gas.

The gunman was jolted out of the auto, but not before he fired a shot. The bullet struck Poole's heavily stuffed money bag, penetrated some bills and deflected weakly off a roll of silver. Poole suffered a slight thigh injury.

One-Stop Job Plan Readied

Federal Agencies Slated To Merge

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson approved today a one-stop plan for government job seekers which he said would make it easier to attract capable people.

When it is in full effect, interested citizens won't have to go from agency to agency to learn about federal job opportunities, but will be able to get all the information in one place.

Information centers will be set up in 55 major centers, acting for the entire federal government. They will replace 684 boards of examiners, each acting for only one department or agency. Some cities now have as many as 30 or 40 of these boards.

Describing the merit system as "the keystone of good government," Johnson called the new recruiting plan "an excellent beginning."

"Eventually there should be a central information office in every major metropolitan area where citizens can get information, not only about federal job opportunities, but about all functions of the federal government," Johnson said.

In a letter to Chairman John Macy of the Civil Service Commission, Johnson wrote:

"This is a high-priority program which has my full endorsement and I shall look to you to provide the leadership for implementation at the earliest possible date."

"I am sure you will enjoy the full support of heads of departments and agencies in the pursuit of our common goal for quality and excellence in the federal service."

Thanksgiving Traffic Toll Climbs to 615

CHICAGO (AP)—Traffic accidents killed 615 persons across the nation during the four-day Thanksgiving holiday weekend, a record high for the fall festive period.

The toll was 11 per cent higher than the total for the weekend last year when 554 persons died in accidents. The Associated Press began tallying Thanksgiving deaths in 1958.

The count began at 6 p.m. (local time) Wednesday and ended at midnight Sunday.

Sergeant Raps U.S. Viet Role

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP)—Two American soldiers released by the Viet Cong said today they had been well treated during their two years of captivity.

Spec. 5 Claude E. McClure, 25, of Chattanooga, Tenn., said his captors cared for his wounds, shared their food with him and allowed him mail from his family and Red Cross packages.

"Had it been the Saigon government I would have been tortured," said McClure.

Sgt. George E. Smith of Chester, W. Va., said he believed his liberation was "the direct result of protests in America against U.S. involvement in the Viet Nam war."

The Viet Cong in announcing their release Saturday said they were being freed to show good will toward Americans opposing the war.

The two soldiers appeared at a news conference arranged by the Cambodian information minister. They had crossed the border after their release and were brought to the Cambodian capital Monday.

"I have known both sides," said Smith, and the war in Viet Nam is of no interest to the United States.

Smith, asked about the morale of the South Vietnamese government troops, said government officers frequently ran away whenever there was a fight.

Smith said he was returning home "so Americans can see the light about the war in Viet Nam."

Both soldiers said they expected "harassment" when they got home.

McClure said the Viet Cong did not try to indoctrinate its prisoners. He said his captors gave him books to read and paper for his letters. He said he didn't do much work in the camp.

Smith, 27, said "the Saigon government is not the government of the people. I have seen South Vietnamese villagers who were ready to help the Viet Cong."

Extension Phone Pampers Girls Too Much, Medics Say

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Paul D. White, the noted heart expert, and a professional colleague came out strongly today against extension phones in the American home.

It is unwise, they advised, to pamper housewives with convenient conversation outlets all over the place — an extension phone saves steps, but it deprives the girls of exercise which helps to keep their hearts and arteries toned up and their hips trim.

Dr. White, the Bostonian who treated former President Dwight D. Eisenhower for his first heart attack, set forth with Dr. Henry D. Stebbins the case against the extension phone.

In a letter to the New York Times, they noted there recently has been a campaign to popularize multiple phone systems in the home with the slogan "save 76 miles with an extension phone."

Ammer To Seek Appellate Bench

Pickaway County Common Pleas Judge William Ammer today announced his candidacy for the Fourth District Court of Appeals in the primary election on May 3, 1966.

Meigs, Vinton, Hocking, Athens and Washington counties. Judge Ammer, 46, was re-elected to the Pickaway County bench in 1964 by a 70 per cent margin over his Democratic opponent. During 8½ years as Common Pleas Judge here, he has also presided at cases in ten Ohio counties, with many assignments in Cleveland. He has been visiting judge in Ross, Pike, Highland and Vinton counties, which are all part of the Fourth District Court of Appeals territory.

OUT OF 3,592 cases handled in Pickaway County during his tenure on the bench, only three decisions have been reversed by the Appeals Court and no decision of his has ever been upset by the Ohio Supreme Court.

The local judge is secretary of the Scioto Conservancy Court which controls the Scioto Conservancy District. In his determination for justice, he fought attempts to assess property owners huge sums to build the dams and even at one time proposed dissolution of the district, which now is dormant.

Entry into both businesses was gained from an area at the rear of the IOOF building completely surrounded by brick walls.

Police do not know how the person or persons committing the burglaries got into the area. Its only apparent access from the outside is from the roof of the building.

However, there is no evidence indicating entry was gained in that manner. The only other theory police have is the persons involved were locked inside one of the stores at closing time.

Assisting Barton and Pontious with the investigation is Dave Nibert of the London Bureau of Criminal Investigation.

After the robbery was completed, Police believe the persons left through the restaurant.

The office of Hatfield Realty also is accessible from the area. However, an investigation of the office indicated nothing there had been disturbed.

NE Ohio City Blanketed With 23-Inch Snow

CONNEAUT, Ohio (AP) — Northeastern Ohio's first big snowstorm of the season — one that dropped 23 inches of snow in Conneaut and 16 inches in Ashtabula—hit Cleveland Monday night.

There were no reported deaths due to the storm and only minor traffic accidents, the highway patrol post at Ashtabula reported. Also, there were no notices of any school closings.

Study recommendations, involving such things as water supply, water quality and flow characteristics, will be paid for with $20 million set aside from a bond issue approved by voters last May, Rhodes explained.

As part of Ohio's war on water pollution, Rhodes said, the state will install a system of water quality monitoring stations on Ohio rivers which are tributaries either to the Ohio River or Lake Erie.

Two of the devices are to be placed in the Maumee River near Defiance. The other cities and rivers involved are Elyria (Black River), Fremont (Sandusky), Painesville (Grand), Athens (Hocking), Clevel (Great Miami) Higby (Scioto) and Toledo (Maumee).

Youth Said Key to Ohio Road Safety

CINCINNATI (AP)—Youth is the key to traffic safety, a conference of legislators, law enforcement officers, judges and safety officials was told Monday.

"Kids are the key to stopping this highway slaughter," said Hamilton County Juvenile Court Judge Benjamin Schwartz. "If we want it stopped we've got to teach these kids to drive and drive right."

Schwartz made his remarks at a meeting called by State Sen. Michael Maloney and State Rep. Gordon Scherer, both of Cincinnati.

The remarks came after 33 persons died in accidents on Ohio's streets and highways during the Thanksgiving holiday.

The consensus of those attending was that the state is not obligated to license a citizen to drive just because he has reached the minimum age and has access to an automobile.

Maloney and Scherer said discussed will be incorporated with others into a traffic safety bill that will be presented to the general assembly in 1967.

Col. Cliff Reich of the Ohio Highway Patrol said it is time to unshackle police and let them use a limited number of unmarked cars and quit putting up signs saying "radar ahead."

"This isn't a game to be played by sportsmanlike rules," he said. "It's life and death."

Spec. 5 Claude E. McClure, 25, of Chattanooga, Tenn., said his captors cared for his wounds, shared their food with him and allowed him mail from his family and Red Cross packages.

"Had it been the Saigon government I would have been tortured," said McClure.

Sgt. George E. Smith of Chester, W. Va., said he believed his liberation was "the direct result of protests in America against U.S. involvement in the Viet Nam war."

The Viet Cong in announcing their release Saturday said they were being freed to show good will toward Americans opposing the war.

The two soldiers appeared at a news conference arranged by the Cambodian information minister. They had crossed the border after their release and were brought to the Cambodian capital Monday.

"I have known both sides," said Smith, and the war in Viet Nam is of no interest to the United States.

Smith, asked about the morale of the South Vietnamese government troops, said government officers frequently ran away whenever there was a fight.

Smith said he was returning home "so Americans can see the light about the war in Viet Nam."

Both soldiers said they expected "harassment" when they got home.

McClure said the Viet Cong did not try to indoctrinate its prisoners. He said his captors gave him books to read and paper for his letters. He said he didn't do much work in the camp.

Smith, 27, said "the Saigon government is not the government of the people. I have seen South Vietnamese villagers who were ready to help the Viet Cong."

Extension Phone Pampers Girls Too Much, Medics Say

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Paul D. White, the noted heart expert, and a professional colleague came out strongly today against extension phones in the American home.

It is unwise, they advised, to pamper housewives with convenient conversation outlets all over the place — an extension phone saves steps, but it deprives the girls of exercise which helps to keep their hearts and arteries toned up and their hips trim.

Dr. White, the Bostonian who treated former President Dwight D. Eisenhower for his first heart attack, set forth with Dr. Henry D. Stebbins the case against the extension phone.

In a letter to the New York Times, they noted there recently has been a campaign to popularize multiple phone systems in the home with the slogan "save 76 miles with an extension phone."

Ammer To Seek Appellate Bench

Pickaway County Common Pleas Judge William Ammer today announced his candidacy for the Fourth District Court of Appeals in the primary election on May 3, 1966.

Judge Ammer, whose political career here dates back about 13 years, is a Republican.

JUDGE WILLIAM AMMER

can and decided to run for the appellate bench after a long period of consideration. The judicial district consists of Pickaway, Adams, Brown, Highland, Ross, Pike, Scioto, Lawrence, Gallia, Jackson, Meigs, Vinton, Hocking, Athens and Washington counties.

Judge Ammer, 46, was re-elected to the Pickaway County bench in 1964 by a 70 per cent margin over his Democratic opponent. During 8½ years as Common Pleas Judge here, he has also presided at cases in ten Ohio counties, with many assignments in Cleveland. He has been visiting judge in Ross, Pike, Highland and Vinton counties, which are all part of the Fourth District Court of Appeals territory.

OUT OF 3,592 cases handled in Pickaway County during his tenure on the bench, only three decisions have been reversed by the Appeals Court and no decision of his has ever been upset by the Ohio Supreme Court.

The local judge is secretary of the Scioto Conservancy Court which controls the Scioto Conservancy District. In his determination for justice, he fought attempts to assess property owners huge sums to build the dams and even at one time proposed dissolution of the district, which now is dormant.

Prior to being elected to his present position, Judge Ammer was an attorney-examiner for the Ohio Industrial Commission, assistant attorney general for

Burglaries of 2 Downtown Businesses Baffle Policemen

The question of how a burglar, or burglars, gained entry into two local business establishments has police baffled today.

Boyer's Restaurant at the corner of Court and Main St., and Burton's Gift Shop, 105 E. Main St., were burglarized sometime during the night.

City Police report $118.39 taken from the cash register at the restaurant. An inventory of the gift shop indicated over 40 watches were taken, and $5 worth of quarters.

Nothing else was apparently taken. The burglary was discovered at the restaurant early today when Sharon Cole, an employee of the establishment opened for business.

CITY PATROLMEN Wes Barton and Larry Pontious, discovered the entry into the gift shop.

Entry into both businesses was gained from an area at the rear of the IOOF building completely surrounded by brick walls.

Police do not know how the person or persons committing the burglaries got into the area. Its only apparent access from the outside is from the roof of the building.

However, there is no evidence indicating entry was gained in that manner. The only other theory police have is the persons involved were locked inside one of the stores at closing time.

Assisting Barton and Pontious with the investigation is Dave Nibert of the London Bureau of Criminal Investigation.

After the robbery was completed, Police believe the persons left through the restaurant.

The office of Hatfield Realty also is accessible from the area. However, an investigation of the office indicated nothing there had been disturbed.

NE Ohio City Blanketed With 23-Inch Snow

CONNEAUT, Ohio (AP) — Northeastern Ohio's first big snowstorm of the season — one that dropped 23 inches of snow in Conneaut and 16 inches in Ashtabula—hit Cleveland Monday night.

There were no reported deaths due to the storm and only minor traffic accidents, the highway patrol post at Ashtabula reported. Also, there were no notices of any school closings.

Fourth of U.S.
Crops Exported

Volume Reaches
$6.1 Billion Total

WASHINGTON (AP) — The crops from about one of every four harvested acres in the nation were exported during the crop year that just ended.

Farm exports reached a record $6.1 billion and included the output from 71 million acres.

A year-end review by the Agriculture Department further underlined the foreign trade significance of American farming with a fact sheet showing the export market accounted for:

—More than one half of U. S. production of wheat, milled rice, dry edible peas and soybeans;

—Almost one-third of the dried prunes and cottonseed;

—About one-fourth of the cotton, tobacco, raising, grain sorghums and flaxseed; and —One-sixth of the corn, barley, lard and dry beans.

These U. S. farm exports required financing, inland transportation, storage and ocean shipping for 52 million long tons of cargo—enough to fill more than 1.1 million freight cars or 5,200 cargo vessels, which averages out to about 14 sailings each day.

Commercial sales for dollars accounted for a near-record $4.4 billion of the total export value. The remaining $1.7 billion went abroad under various aid-type programs.

American taxpayers directly and indirectly contributed a little less than $500 million to get about one-third of the total farm exports into foreign hands, through subsidy payments to exports and reduced rate sales from government stocks to make U. S. wheat, cotton, rice, butter and some tobacco meet foreign competition.

The dollar cost of this export assistance is not included in the value of products shipped abroad.

Athens News
Chief Dies
At Age 62

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Gordon K. Bush, second in a family line that has published the Athens Messenger the 60 years it has been a daily newspaper, is dead at the age of 62.

Bush, who ran the paper since 1929 and was as prominent as any man in the growth of Ohio University, died in University Hospital at Columbus late Monday.

He leaves as heir-apparent to continue the Bush name as editor and publisher of the Messenger his son, G. Kemner Bush Jr. The younger Bush has been assistant publisher.

Other survivors are the widow, Izotta, two daughters, Mrs. Frank Spencer Jr. of Newark, Ohio, and Jennie Ray Bush of New York City, and four grandchildren. Mrs. Spencer's husband is managing editor of another daily newspaper, the Newark Advocate.

The late Mr. Bush was on the Ohio University board of trustees longer than any other person, 30 years, until retiring in 1961 after five six-year terms. He was chairman of the board twice.

After a couple of years' outside experience, he became editor and publisher of the Messenger on the death of his father, Frederick W. Bush, in 1929.

F. W. Bush had come to work for the then weekly Messenger and Herald in 1895 and become editor-publisher in 1896. It became a daily nine years later.

Ohio Aide To Press
For Appalachia Fund

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Ohio Office of Opportunity director, Albert G. Giles, planned to press at a U. S. Appalachian Regional Commission meeting today for approval of $328,412 toward Ohio projects.

Before leaving Columbus, Giles said he expected the commission would come through with the funds to aid in construction at the College of Steubenville, Zanesville Airport and a proposed Beverly Branch Library near Marietta, and for a clay and shale study in Ohio's 28 Appalachian counties.

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP) — The Clermont County Auditor's office said Monday property owners in nine of the county's 14 townships will be assessed 30 cents per $1,000 valuation for the next two years for the maintenance of the Little Miami River Conservancy District.

The townships, which are part of the district, are Batavia, Miami, Goshen, Union, Jackson, Stonelick, Tate, Wayne and Williamsburg.

The conservancy district covers five counties. The other four are Hamilton, Warren, Clinton and Greene.

State Patrol
Shows No
'Favoritism'

No traffic violator is safe from Ohio State Patrol, not even another patrolman.

Sunday evening Patrolman Larry Hostetter on routine patrol about six miles south of Circleville on Route 23, observed a car approaching in the opposite lane of traffic at an apparent high rate of speed.

The patrolman pulled into a crossover, checked traffic and observed no autos coming in the inside lane of the highway, so he started to pull onto the road to give chase.

At that very instant, Sharon Vickers, 24, of Liberty Center, decided to pass another car, pulled into the lane and collided with Hostetter. No one was hurt and only minor property damage resulted from the accident.

HOWEVER, Hostetter radioed the local station and the supervising officer on duty, Cpl. D. A. Aller went to investigate the mishap.

Cpl. Aller felt the patrolman was in violation of traffic laws, cited him to appear in Municipal Court, where he was fined $15 and costs for failure to yield the right of way by Judge Sterling Lamb.

FBI Informer
Is Heard in Klan Trial

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—An FBI informer told a federal court jury today that the Ku Klux Klan organization he joined as an undercover agent was dedicated to the preservation of white supremacy "by whatever means necessary, whether by bullets or ballots."

Moments earlier, the former Birmingham bartender, Gary Thomas Rowe Jr., had told of a Klan-ordered visit to Montgomery and Selma during the historic civil rights march last spring which ended in the slaying of a Detroit Housewife, Viola Gregg Liuzzo.

Three Klansmen — Collie Leroy Wilkins Jr., 22, of Fairfield, Ala., and Eugene Thomas, 42, and William Orville Eaton, 41, both of Bessemer, Ala.—are on trial on federal charges of conspiracy to violate the civil rights of American citizens participating in the 50-mile march from Selma to Montgomery.

Mrs. Liuzzo, the mother of five children and wife of Anthony Liuzzo, a Teamsters Union official, was killed by a bullet through her head as she drove along U.S. 80 in nearby Lowndes County last March 25.

Miami Lioness Fails
To Enjoy Her Freedom

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Sister, the 2-year-old lioness, had a couple of hours of freedom recently—but it wasn't much fun. After she escaped from her cage at a wild animal exhibition, she padded around briefly before sheriff's deputies chased her into a thick mangrove swamp.

A deputy shot her with a dart containing tranquilizing fluid, and Sister was taken back to her cage. She was described by caretaker Willie Bumpass as "a pet and not dangerous."

NATO-Warsaw Pact Is Urged

WASHINGTON (AP)—A non-aggression pact between the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the Soviet-led Warsaw Treaty Organization was proposed today to the White House Conference on International Cooperation.

The conference's Committee on Arms Control and Disarmament, which made the suggestion in a report, also said that in the long run Communist China will have to be included in any system for international security and disarmament. But it added that "the long run can be very long."

The committee reported to the conference, which was called by President Johnson in support of the United Nations' International Cooperation Year. The report was submitted for discussion along with other conference papers concerned with keeping the peace.

Swim Team, Parents
Meet Scheduled Sunday

Members and parents of the Circleville Swim Team will meet 4:30 p. m. Sunday in the Grange 4-H Building on the Fairgrounds.

Jim Shea, swim team coach, said youths interested in joining the team are also encouraged to bring their parents to the meeting.

Humphrey told the conference's space panel Monday the United States vigorously supports the U.N. resolution against placing weapons in orbit around the earth and has set an example by reporting to the international organization every object it has sent into orbit. Other nations, he suggested, might follow this example and also might press for general observance of the anti-weapons resolution.

The Disarmament Committee is headed by Dr. Jerome B. Wiesner, a former presidential science adviser and present dean at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The committee said an agreement between the rival military alliances in Europe would recognize "that the situation in central Europe — including the situation in Berlin — can be changed only by mutual consent, not by force."

The committee also argued that the United States need not wait for better relations with mainland China before seeking agreements with the Russians on such things as reducing strategic forces or freezing nuclear stocks.

For years to come, the report said, such agreements could be "safely implemented while the Chinese continue their efforts to develop their own nuclear force."

But the committee said the United States should try to open bilateral talks with China on arms control, find out the conditions under which China might qualify for and accept the responsibility of U.N. membership, and support efforts to bring the big Communist country into a disarmament conference.

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP) — The Clermont County Auditor's office said Monday property owners in nine of the county's 14 townships will be assessed 30 cents per $1,000 valuation for the next two years for the maintenance of the Little Miami River Conservancy District.

The townships, which are part of the district, are Batavia, Miami, Goshen, Union, Jackson, Stonelick, Tate, Wayne and Williamsburg.

The conservancy district covers five counties. The other four are Hamilton, Warren, Clinton and Greene.

A suit has been filed in Clinton County by David W. Myers of Wilmington in an attempt to stop collection of the levy in that county.

State Patrol Shows No 'Favoritism'

No traffic violator is safe from Ohio State Patrol, not even another patrolman.

Sunday evening Patrolman Larry Hostetter on routine patrol about six miles south of Circleville on Route 23, observed a car approaching in the opposite lane of traffic at an apparent high rate of speed.

The patrolman pulled into a crossover, checked traffic and observed no autos coming in the inside lane of the highway, so he started to pull onto the road to give chase.

At that very instant, Sharon Vickers, 24, of Liberty Center, decided to pass another car, pulled into the lane and collided with Hostetter. No one was hurt and only minor property damage resulted from the accident.

HOWEVER, Hostetter radiated the local station and the supervising officer on duty, Cpl. D. A. Aller went to investigate the mishap.

Cpl. Aller felt the patrolman was in violation of traffic laws, cited him to appear in Municipal Court, where he was fined $15 and costs for failure to yield the right of way by Judge Sterling Lamb.

FBI Informer Is Heard in Klan Trial

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — An FBI informer told a federal court jury today that the Ku Klux Klan organization he joined as an undercover agent was dedicated to the preservation of white supremacy "by whatever means necessary, whether by bullets or ballots."

Moments earlier, the former Birmingham bartender, Gary Thomas Rowe Jr., had told of a Klan-ordered visit to Montgomery and Selma during the historic civil rights march last spring which ended in the slaying of a Detroit Housewife, Viola Gregg Liuzzo.

Three Klansmen — Collie LeRoy Wilkins Jr., 22, of Fairfield, Ala., and Eugene Thomas, 42, and William Orville Eaton, 41, both of Bessemer, Ala.—are on trial on federal charges of conspiracy to violate the civil rights of American citizens participating in the 50-mile march from Selma to Montgomery.

Mrs. Liuzzo, the mother of five children and wife of Anthony Liuzzo, a Teamsters Union official, was killed by a bullet through her head as she drove along U.S. 80 in nearby Lowndes County last March 25.

Miami Lioness Fails To Enjoy Her Freedom

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Sister, the 2-year-old lioness, had a couple of hours of freedom recently—but it wasn't much fun. After she escaped from her cage at a wild animal exhibition, she padded around briefly before sheriff's deputies chased her into a thick mangrove swamp.

A deputy shot her with a dart containing tranquilizing fluid, and Sister was taken back to her cage. She was described by caretaker Willie Bumpass as "a pet and not dangerous."

Commission OKs Loan Application

Pickaway County Commissioners are probing an area dealing with domestic water systems in several township areas.

The county solons yesterday adopted a motion making preliminary application with the Farmers Home Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture, for a loan concerning the water projects.

Areas being considered for the domestic water systems are in Walnut, Saltcreek, Washington and Pickaway Twp.

Notification that federal funds may be available for the projects was brought to the commissioners' attention recently and the preliminary application was filed in case a program can be worked out to alleviate water shortage problems in the above mentioned areas.

The venture is to be investigated and studied further at future meetings of the commission.

In other official action by the county lawmakers, Columbia Gas of Ohio granted permission to repair a three - inch gas line in Monroe Twp., near Five Points.

Sara M. Dresbach, Pickaway County Clerk of Courts, was also granted permission, at county's expense, to attend an upcoming meeting of the Ohio Clerk of Courts Assn.

Next week the solons will be in session Monday through Wednesday for the last quarterly meeting of 1965.

Selling Squall Hits Stocks

NEW YORK (AP)—A selling squall upset stock market prices and the list was sharply lower early this afternoon.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was down 5.29 at 941.64.

Losses ranged from fractions to 1 or 2 points among most leading issues although some of the higher-priced stocks lost as much as 3 points or so.

The market was mixed at the start with trading very heavy and a jumble of gains and losses. Blue chips were skidding and American Telephone faced renewed selling pressure as it sank to a new low for the year on a delayed opening block of 35,000 shares.

Two Men Arrested For Liquor Theft

Two men arrested by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department in connection with the burglary of Tink's Tavern Saturday morning were cited into Municipal Court today.

Robert Brown, 329 Barnes Ave., and Lawrence Spencer, 227 N. Scioto St., were charged with grand larceny and with breaking and entering.

Judge Sterling Lamb set bond at $1,500 on each count. Both men entered pleas of guilty to the charges.

The investigation of the burglary, in which more than 20 fifths of liquor were taken, was handled by Sheriff Dwight Radcliff and Deputy John Wolford. The sheriff noted the liquor has not yet been recovered.

NATO - Warsaw Pact Is Urged

WASHINGTON (AP)—A non-aggression pact between the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the Soviet-led Warsaw Treaty Organization was proposed today to the White House Conference on International Cooperation.

The conference's Committee on Arms Control and Disarmament, which made the suggestion in a report, also said that in the long run Communist China will have to be included in any system for international security and disarmament. But it added that "the long run can be very long."

The committee reported to the conference, which was called by President Johnson in support of the United Nations' International Cooperation Year. The report was submitted for discussion along with other conference papers concerned with keeping the peace.

Swim Team, Parents Meet Scheduled Sunday

Members and parents of the Circleville Swim Team will meet 4:30 p. m. Sunday in the Grange 4-H Building on the Fairgrounds.

Jim Shea, swim team coach, said youths interested in joining the team are also encouraged to bring their parents to the meeting.

Humphrey told the conference's space panel Monday the United States vigorously supports the U.N. resolution against placing weapons in orbit around the earth and has set an example by reporting to the international organization every object it has sent into orbit. Other nations, he suggested, might follow this example and also might press for general observance of the anti-weapons resolution.

The Disarmament Committee is headed by Dr. Jerome B. Wiesner, a former presidential science adviser and present dean at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The committee said an agreement between the rival military alliances in Europe would recognize "that the situation in central Europe — including the situation in Berlin — can be changed only by mutual consent, not by force."

The committee also argued that the United States need not wait for better relations with mainland China before seeking agreements with the Russians on such things as reducing strategic forces or freezing nuclear stocks.

For years to come, the report said, such agreements could be "safely implemented while the Chinese continue their efforts to develop their own nuclear force."

But the committee said the United States should try to open bilateral talks with China on arms control, find out the conditions under which China might qualify for and accept the responsibility of U.N. membership, and support efforts to bring the big Communist country into a disarmament conference.

NEW YORK (AP) — You may work harder but you play more. You use your friends and relatives and social affairs to get your foot in the door. And you learn how to handle the secretary of the man you want to see. You also have an instinct that tells you when this prospect is wasting your time.

This is a composite picture of the men who can sell a million dollars or more of life insurance a year and keep right on doing it. In fact, the going gets easier as your prestige builds up. And your own income goes up, too.

The pictures of these salesmen comes in part from a survey answered by 2,000 members of the Million Dollar Round Table for the Survey Research Center of the University of Michigan. The tricks of the game come from several of the men who made the grade.

About 70 per cent say they need only three to 10 interviews a week to maintain their sales volume. And a majority clinch the deal in the prospect's office rather than his home. If the interview hasn't already been set up, the salesmen treats the secretary with the dignity and respect her importance demands.

The majority of the super-salesmen say they work a 50-hour week, with one or two evenings included in that. But most take from four to six weeks of vacation a year and four per cent take 11 weeks or more.

The average income of the 2,000 is $30,000 a year, and a fourth put their net worth at more than $300,000.

While 6 per cent are college graduates, there are about three per cent who didn't get as far as high school.

Most admit they need friends and relatives to help them find prospects. But they stress that involvement in social events and civil affairs is a prime help. Many build up prestige by moonlighting as lecturers, speakers and authors.

Local political affairs command their attention. But only one-fourth were active in 1964 in local, state or national campaigns. A few of the insurance men wind up as state representatives, and more take on local political chores.

For 86 per cent, the biggest field for selling is to existing policyholders as these clients climb the success ladder and garner higher incomes.

West Germany Holds Yule Tree Price Firm

BONN, Germany (AP) — There's a disturbing rise in the price of almost everything in West Germany, but the Ministry for Economic Affairs says Christmas tree prices are not going up.

The basic price in the woods is to be 38 cents for each 40 inches. But a lot of extra costs and profits must be added. Last year a tree cost $2 to $8 on the streets of West German cities.

Rocky To Offer Plan To Train Physicians

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller plans to submit to the legislature a plan under which the state will help finance physician-training.

The governor said the program eventually would increase by more than 100 a year the number of medical students in college, under terms of an agreement reached "in principle" with seven medical schools.

"And to my nephew, Leroy, who always was too optimistic..."

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLLEMAN, M.D.

My 20-year-old daughter has been flat - chested all her life. All through school she was exceedingly popular and made friends easily. Only recently did she tell us how badly she suffered because she was ashamed of her flat chest. It upset us to learn that she had developed all kinds of excuses to avoid exposing herself to other girls in the gymnasium or in the swimming pool.

Now she is even more troubled. She confessed to us that she will not marry the young man she is engaged to because of her embarrassment.

Can this condition be remedied by surgery? If so, will it affect her during motherhood?

Mrs. D. L., Circleville

Dear Mrs. L.: It is sad that your daughter took these many years to discuss this matter in detail with you. Many adolescents are so embarrassed by being flat-chested that they seek and develop the most ingenious ways to hide this malformation.

In many instances the lives of young women actually revolve around the concern of underdevelopment of the breasts. Fortunately, your daughter has frankly spoken about this to you and shared with you her emotional distress.

Now there are important steps to be taken to help your daughter regain the happiness she is entitled to.

Plastic surgery of the breast has now attained a rightfully respected position in modern surgery.

The repair of all kinds of breast deformities is assuming increasing importance in the physical and psychological

A 'Storm' in California

By John Chamberlain

LBJ may be pulling those popularity polls out of his pocket with continuing satisfaction these days. But a cloud that is considerably bigger than a man's hand is blowing up that could lead to a colossal storm in the Democratic Party in California in 1966.

It's all because of extremism of the farthest out variety in the organization known as the California Democratic Council, or CDC. Though the CDC was brought into being by National Committeeman Paul Ziffren, a Beverly Hills attorney, and other Democrats of "progressive" persuasion, it was babied along to success by Governor Pat Brown through many a crisis of rather hooky Leftist opinion - making. Brown passed lightly over CDC demands to abolish the House Un-American Activities Committee, or to withdraw American soldiers from South Vietnam, or to sanction trade with Red China, or to back teachers in the right to strike. His attitude could be summed up in the phrase, "This is dialogue."

But the "dialogue" carried on by Simon Casady, the present leader of the CDC, has been getting to hot for Pat Brown. Casady has been going about the Golden State attacking Lyndon Johnson as "a Texas cowboy" and tearing down the LBJ foreign policy as "illegal." His tone has been nasty, and if the White House hasn't resented it, then LBJ has suddenly grown an elephant's hide. Pat Brown couldn't very well let the Casady challenge pass, and the elements in the CDC that still listen to the Governor have made two attempts to get rid of their wild - talking President.

A vote among the CDC directors a month ago asking Casady to resign ended in a 29 - 29 tie, and a more recent attempt to impeach him failed only because a 29-to-18 count fell short of the two-thirds majority necessary to put it across. The 29 directors who voted for impeachment presumably speak for at least half of the CDC's 45,000 members. But the Casady element is adamant; in mustering the vote to beat impeachment back, they sang that old standby of the Left, "Casady is our leader, we shall not be moved."

What makes Pat Brown really vulnerable to the effects of civil war in the CDC is that he failed to object some eight months ago when Simon Casady put out a brochure attacking the South Vietnam policy of LBJ. Furthermore, the brochure was paid for by a fund from the Governor's own political kitty. Says Casady: "If the Governor didn't know my views, he at least paid the cost of distributing them."

The Brown repudiation of Casady, then, can be made to look coldly opportunistic to Casady's many followers. So the fat is in the fire; if Brown runs again for Governor he stands to lose the more conscious Democratic Left. They might not vote for Republican Ronald Reagan, but they could very well stay home. Meanwhile Sam Yorty, the rather conservative mayor of Los Angeles who is coming to symbolize law and order in California, has been treated to a successful testimonial dinner. He could conceivably take on Brown in the 1966 Democratic primary. Whether he should succeed or fail, it would mean more bad blood in Democratic ranks. As for Jesse Unruh, the Democratic State Assembly boss, he spent considerable time at the State Legislative Leaders' convention in Puerto Rico knocking Pat Brown.

All of this makes the 1966 Republican nomination for governor of California very much worth having, provided there can be a cessation of Republican blood - letting. There is a movement afoot to get U. S. Senator George Murphy, a non - abrasive personality, to run for governor. Still another non - abrasive possibility is the popular Bob Monagan, the Minority Leader of the State Assembly who has offered good positive alternatives to Democratic propositions in the legislature. As for Ronald Reagan, whom Brown will try to stigmatize as the candidate of the "radical right," his success will depend on his ability to answer Brown's semantic baiting without tearing the Republicans apart. But he is having less trouble than Brown at the moment with the albatross of party factionalism.

LBJ has some quick healing to do in California. Can he do it short of a quick victory in Southeast Asia?

A just issued government report reveals that, as of last June 30, some 330 U. S. launched objects — space vehicles and spare rocket parts — were circling the Earth. That old child-hood game — Heavy, Heavy Hangs Over Your Head — has at last become an actuality.

This year Junior seems to be doing his Christmas good-behaving quite early. His ears sparkled with surprising cleanliness today.

Children should be allowed to be noisy, suggests the writer of a child-care column. What does he mean? — "allowed?"

THE METS ARE unquestionably the most inept outfit in the history of major league baseball—but they continue to draw phenomenal crowds. Dr. Fabian Rourke explains their fantastic appeal: "The Mets represent inevitable loss with not one whit of accompanying pain. As one rabid lady Met supporter put it, 'All my life I've been a loser. I'm just like those poor outmatched players. But watching them get their brains beat out doesn't hurt!'"

"The Catholic Digest" reports a delectable incident in which a famous Jesuit preacher delivered a sermon to a group of nuns. Because their convent was cloistered he had to address them through a thick screen, and at first experienced some difficulty establishing rapport with an audience he couldn't see. But soon he warmed to his task and was hitting on all cylinders by the time he completed the sermon. Just as he was congratulating himself for his magnificent performance, a soft voice behind him advised, "You may begin now, Father. The Sisters have all assembled."

QUICKIES:
The way to stop drop-outs, suggests ex-pedagogue Sam Levinson, is to jazz up the names of our elementary schools. For example: Public Discotheque 10.
Thirteen-year-old Marvin gazed thoughtfully at a large photograph of Elizabeth Taylor. "I still hate girls," he then announced, "but when I stop hating them, this is the girl I'm going to stop hating first."

Every Hero Has a Weakness

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Curbstone comments of a Pavement Plato:

One of the lucky things in this world is to have something obviously wrong with you.

It ordinarily helps a human being to get ahead if he has a recognizable but not too repulsive defect.

This is one way in which people differ from chickens, and other perhaps lower forms of zoological life.

The difference between the chicken flock and the human herd is simply this: Chickens unreasonably require perfection in their leaders and each other; people are suspicious of perfection claimed by their leaders or claimed by followers of such leaders. And to some extent they are aware of their own limitations.

We expect excellence always from our champions, and usually from each other. But we also expect failure and lack of performance from them sometimes, too.

One of the things we like about Babe Ruth is that, although he knocked 714 home runs, he also struck out a lot of times.

One of the things we like about George Washington is that, for all his granite force of character, he now and then let his temper get the better of him - and blew his stack, even as you and I.

One of the things we like about Abraham Lincoln is that, for all his political sagacity and eloquence in sustaining the American Union, he was homely and perhaps mildly henpecked. So was Socrates.

Every hero that has embedded himself deeply and lastingly in the affections of mankind has had a recognizable wart. This enables the rest of us to identify ourselves with him, and smile and say, "Well, after all, he was human, too."

It is hardly satisfactory to be sympathized with merely for one's wars. Every human heart also yearns to be remembered for something about it that is right. This takes a bit of demonstrating.

Sheriff Donald Watson of Clermont County said Mrs. Janet Wolfe apparently thought she was going to lose custody of the girls and shot them in her home last Wednesday. She had taken care of the nieces since their mother died two years ago. Mrs. Wolfe and the mother were sisters.

Production Highs Reached by Cows In Local Herds

New, officially recognized milk and butterfat production levels by registered Holstein cows in this area are listed in a special report from Holstein-Friesian Assn. of America.

Vicinity cows included: Katie Hartog Rag Apple Girl 4505472, a 7-year-old cow owned by Reuben Jones and Sons, Route 4, produced 14,290 pounds of milk and 559 pounds of butterfat in 305 days.

Orient Posch C Romeo 4598026, a 6-year-old produced 17,300 pounds of milk and 613 pounds of butterfat in 305 days; Orient De Kol P Prince 5069712, a 3-year-old had 17,130 pounds of milk and 607 pounds of butterfat in 305 days. Both are owned by Orient State Institute.

These new production figures may be compared to the estimated annual output of 7,880 lbs. of milk and 285 lbs. of butterfat by the average U. S. dairy cow, notes the national Holstein Association.

Ohio State University supervised the sampling, weighing and testing operations in cooperation with the Holstein organization's herd and breed improvement programs.

'Crash' Predicted in West Germany's Stamp Market

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — Stamp collecting, a favorite hobby, has developed into a "miniature stock market" in West Germany.

That is the description of a Frankfurt expert who warns of an impending "crash" for thousands of investors.

Some stamps have increased in value up to 60,000 per cent within a few years, says Arnold Ebel, a man who has been in the business for 45 years.

Ebel, who recently held a $750,000 stamp auction here, says short-term speculators with considerable stockpiles soon will try to cash their profits, and the market will not be able to stand it.

"Part of the postwar issue is in a very dangerous price bracket," he comments. He predicts that postage stamps issued in the last five years will be first hit in the crash, as speculators have been buying up new issues by the sheet since 1960.

The situation has been aggravated by stamp firms that advertise philately as a worthwhile capital investment and "a hobby that relaxes and brings in big profits," he says.

Ebel says children who take up stamp-collecting are more interested in the profits they can make than in the fascination of the stamps themselves. Trading of stamps is a regular business at schools throughout West Germany.

The children — and probably a good number of adults — are

49th Ohio GI Killed In Viet Nam Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Harrison County, Ohio, soldier has been listed by the Defense Department as killed in action in Viet Nam. He was Pfc. Thomas C. Pizzino, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nunce Pizzino of Hopedale. Pizzino was at least the 49th Ohioan killed by hostile action in Viet Nam.

under some illusions as to the real value of stamps, says Ebel.

For dealers are not always interested in increasing their stocks at the market prices, unless the stamps have a particular worth.

Ebel maintains that the predicted crash will hit postwar European issues as well as other stamps that happen to be in fashion.

Stamps from less "fashionable" countries, especially old overseas dominions, are a safer investment in his view.

He estimates that millions of West Germans dabble in the philately business, but only a small percentage are genuine collectors, with specialized knowledge and the necessary finance to support them.

Stamps are always a good investment for people who study the market cautiously, and genuine collectors have nothing to fear from falling prices, Ebel says.

But to people who invest their savings in stamps in preference to normal stocks and shares, Ebel issues a warning: "There is simply no room for short-term speculation."

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

He's Too Familiar!

DEAR ABBY: I've known this guy practically all my life. We grew up together. He's sort of like one of the family, but sometimes I get the idea that it could be serious between us. About four times a year he asks me OUT. But the rest of the time (about twice a week) he calls and says, "How about meeting me after work? I haven't got any money but I can walk you home and we could talk." Now you know when we get home we at least have to have a snack, and a lot of times, it's a complete dinner. Abby, I don't expect him to take me out to dinner twice a week, but it bothers me that he should tell me he has no money, as though, if he had money he'd be somewhere else. After all these years I wonder if I really know him. Any advice?

DEAR N.Y.: You "know" him all right, but you don't "no" him enough. Next time he pulls the "no money, but I'll walk you home" routine, tell him you are busy. After three months of this treatment, if he doesn't ask you "the" question, you'll have the answer.

DEAR ABBY: I live in a small town in Indiana but I read your column in Chicago every day. You are the only one I can turn to, Abby. I am 19 and am in love with a boy who is 20. We aren't engaged yet and here's the problem. My parents like him all right, but my two older sisters married his two older brothers. My parents say that it would be too much of a mix-up with all the double cousins. His family feels the same way about it. They say that two from the same family is enough. We love each other, Abby, and it doesn't make any difference to us that we are already related through marriage. There isn't a law against our marrying, is there? Please help us.

TWO IN LOVE
DEAR TWO: There's no law against your marrying—and I can't see why you shouldn't be married if you love each other.

DEAR ABBY: How do you tell a very dear friend that her children drive you crazy? This person is divorced. She and her children, ages 6 and 3, live with her parents. When she brings her children to my house, the place is a wreck after they leave. They go through my dresser drawers, machine drawers and even my refrigerator. The mother doesn't say a word. The eldest talks back to her and uses vile language. I don't feel like correcting them while she is there. I really like this person, but I don't want her to bring her children to my house any more unless she teaches them some manners first. How do I tell her?

LIFELONG FRIEND
DEAR FRIEND: Tell her in plain English that she is doing her children a grave disservice by letting them run wild, that the little ones can't be expected to know what they've never been taught and she is shirking her responsibility as a mother. Undisciplined children grow to be selfish, inconsiderate adults, who pay dearly for their lack of training, for they are unwanted socially.

DEAR ABBY: I would like to reply to the man who signed himself "VET OF TWO WARS." He disapproved of hunting animals for sport, and in his letter he stated: "If you want to kill be a piker ... go after the big game. Join the Army and ask for front line duty in Viet Nam."

Mrs. McCain Honored with Birthday Party

Mrs. Frances McCain, 917 S. Washington St., was honored Sunday evening with a surprise birthday party given by members of her family.

The honored guest received a gift from the group. Refreshments were served.

Those attending included, Homer McCain, B. F. McCain, Mr. and Mrs. Albert McCain and children, Vickie, Patsy, Connie and Kathleen, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Reed and children, April and Samantha, Mr. and Mrs. Henry McCain and son Tyler and Mr. and Mrs. Gary McCain, all of Circleville.

Meeting Scheduled By CAC Tomorrow

Members of the Child Advancement Club will meet 7:30 p. m. tomorrow in the home of Mrs. Jack Wise, 351 Meadow Lane.

It's people like Mr. "VET OF TWO WARS" — who place human life on the same level with animal life— who are responsible for the rising crime and murder rate in this country today. We have many soldiers in Viet Nam. May of them are volunteers, risking their lives not because they like to kill, but because they believe in our country, its ideals and the very principles on which America was founded.

About four times a year he asks me OUT. But the rest of the time (about twice a week) he calls and says, "How about meeting me after work? I haven't got any money but I can walk you home and we could talk." Now you know when we get home we at least have to have a snack, and a lot of times, it's a complete dinner. Abby, I don't expect him to take me out to dinner twice a week, but it bothers me that he should tell me he has no money, as though, if he had money he'd be somewhere else. After all these years I wonder if I really know him. Any advice?

N.Y.
DEAR N.Y.: You "know" him all right, but you don't "no" him enough. Next time he pulls the "no money, but I'll walk you home" routine, tell him you are busy. After three months of this treatment, if he doesn't ask you "the" question, you'll have the answer.

DEAR ABBY: I live in a small town in Indiana but I read your column in Chicago every day. You are the only one I can turn to, Abby. I am 19 and am in love with a boy who is 20. We aren't engaged yet and here's the problem. My parents like him all right, but my two older sisters married his two older brothers. My parents say that it would be too much of a mix-up with all the double cousins. His family feels the same way about it. They say that two from the same family is enough. We love each other, Abby, and it doesn't make any difference to us that we are already related through marriage. There isn't a law against our marrying, is there? Please help us.

TWO IN LOVE
DEAR TWO: There's no law against your marrying—and I can't see why you shouldn't be married if you love each other.

DEAR ABBY: How do you tell a very dear friend that her children drive you crazy? This person is divorced. She and her children, ages 6 and 3, live with her parents. When she brings her children to my house, the place is a wreck after they leave. They go through my dresser drawers, machine drawers and even my refrigerator. The mother doesn't say a word. The eldest talks back to her and uses vile language. I don't feel like correcting them while she is there. I really like this person, but I don't want her to bring her children to my house any more unless she teaches them some manners first. How do I tell her?

LIFELONG FRIEND
DEAR FRIEND: Tell her in plain English that she is doing her children a grave disservice by letting them run wild, that the little ones can't be expected to know what they've never been taught and she is shirking her responsibility as a mother. Undisciplined children grow to be selfish, inconsiderate adults, who pay dearly for their lack of training, for they are unwanted socially.

DEAR ABBY: I would like to reply to the man who signed himself "VET OF TWO WARS." He disapproved of hunting animals for sport, and in his letter he stated: "If you want to kill be a piker ... go after the big game. Join the Army and ask for front line duty in Viet Nam."

Mrs. McCain Honored with Birthday Party

Mrs. Frances McCain, 917 S. Washington St., was honored Sunday evening with a surprise birthday party given by members of her family.

The honored guest received a gift from the group. Refreshments were served.

Those attending included, Homer McCain, B. F. McCain, Mr. and Mrs. Albert McCain and children, Vickie, Patsy, Connie and Kathleen, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Reed and children, April and Samantha, Mr. and Mrs. Henry McCain and son Tyler and Mr. and Mrs. Gary McCain, all of Circleville.

Meeting Scheduled By CAC Tomorrow

Members of the Child Advancement Club will meet 7:30 p. m. tomorrow in the home of Mrs. Jack Wise, 351 Meadow Lane.

It's people like Mr. "VET OF TWO WARS" — who place human life on the same level with animal life — who are responsible for the rising crime and murder rate in this country today. We have many soldiers in Viet Nam. May of them are volunteers, risking their lives not because they like to kill, but because they believe in our country, its ideals and the very principles on which America was founded.

Popular New Useful Purse Size Cosmetics

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

Purse-size cosmetics are a boon to working girls who lead lively after-office social lives. Thanks to them, you can have beauty wherever you go.

In addition to the usual hand-bag beauty aids — compact and lipsticks — other specialties are available in space-saving packages.

The new powdered brush blush, for example, that has all but replaced rouge, has just been launched in a medicated formula that's packed in a small circular compact. The big news here is the brush — it telescopes into a lipstick-size gold case.

Hair spray—and this is an aid many women deem essential — also comes in a tiny aerosol container that can be tucked into a handbag neatly.

Perfume sprays and bottles that are slightly larger than lipstick-size are also available.

Even a wardrobe of lipsticks has been compactly packaged for your purse. Four are held in a gay pink and gold case that's just three inches long. The cases come with lipstick shades selected for blondes, brunettes, brownettes or redheads.

Another space-saving purse cosmetic is the two-in-one pencil. Use one end to shape brows, the other end to line eyelids.

With clever planning, you can carry enough supplies for a complete facial make-over in your purse — and without weighing it down.

Guild 38 Meeting Scheduled Tomorrow

WASHINGTON (AP) — This is intermission time on the world stage.

For most of this century a succession of colorful men dominated the mind and imagination of the world. Most are dead or retired now. The rest of this century will have to manufacture new men to take their place.

There were loudmouths among those giants of the past, and actors, orators, fanatics, and true world leaders, whether they were loved or hated.

Of them all only two still have top billing: Red China's Mao Tse-tung, and French President Charles de Gaulle. A few others from the past are still in the show but have quieted down from age or circumstance.

At 72 Mao has become a shadowy figure, hardly seen, more a legend than a man. He says little the world hears. He was never colorful. It is hard to know anymore what his real role is.

De Gaulle, always the actor, is still colorful even if he says nothing and points his nose in the air. At 75 he seems certain of a new seven-year term as president. But his dominance is limited mostly to France and Western Europe.

President Johnson, a newcomer to the world scene, has concentrated on his domestic problems and stayed pretty much off the international stage. So it would be straining to say he is a dominant world figure, capturing men's minds.

President John F. Kennedy was the opposite. He was a newcomer, too, but, while he was no smash-hit in getting Congress to do what he wanted, he plunged into the international act early.

The result: In the less than three years of his presidency he was a famous and generally admired figure around the world.

For example: Before he was six months in office he had visited De Gaulle, dined with the queen of England, had a summit meeting with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in Vienna, and then had a crisis over the Berlin wall.

Other figures from the past, although still in power, say few lines anymore: Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser, Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito, and Indonesia's President Sukarno, very rambunctious until his home-grown Communists recently tried to take the play away from him.

Buddhist Dictionary In English Planned

TOKYO (AP) — A Japanese-English dictionary on Buddhism technical terms, claimed to be the first of its kind in the world, will be published in Japan next week, Kyodo news service says.

Kyodo said the dictionary contains 4,872 Buddhism technical terms.

De Gaulle, always the actor, is still colorful even if he says nothing and points his nose in the air. At 75 he seems certain of a new seven-year term as president. But his dominance is limited mostly to France and Western Europe.

Ammer . . .

two years with C. William O'Neill, who later became Ohio's governor. He was twice-elected as prosecuting attorney of Pickaway County on the GOP ticket and served a total of 4½ years. He was also engaged in the private practice of law for five years.

THE JUDGE is a life-long resident of Circleville. His late father, Moses S. Ammer, operated a grocery store in the downtown area for about 45 years.

He received his law degrees from Ohio State University and served for 3½ years in the U.S. Army during World War II.

Judge Ammer has been active in various civic organizations for many years. He is a member of all Masonic bodies, Eastern Star, Shrine, Knights of Pythias, American Legion, Elks, Farm Bureau, Chamber of Commerce and the Kiwanis Club.

Professionally, the judge is now vice president of the Ohio Common Pleas Judges Assn. and is chairman of the Criminal Law Committee of the Ohio State Bar Assn.

A member of the Methodist Church, he has been president of the local Red Cross and Cancer organizations and is now serving as director of the Tuberculosis and Health Assn.

Judge Ammer is the first candidate to announce his interest in the Appeals Court in the 15-county area. Indications are the incumbent in the race will be Judge William B. Brown of Ross County. Other two members of the court are Judge Marshall Carlisle, Jackson, and Judge Gordon Gray, Athens.

In recent years, the only other Pickaway Countyman to serve on the Appeals Court was Judge William D. Radcliff, who is now the administrative assistant of the Ohio Supreme Court.

$28.6 Million Given West Virginia Poor

WASHINGTON (AP) — West Virginia, whose economic plight served as one of the chief inspirations for what the administration calls its "War on Poverty", has received $28,630,515 in federal funds to improve the lot of the poor.

The Office of Economic Opportunity listed this total in a breakdown of anti-poverty campaign allocations as of Nov. 1.

West Virginia's portion of the federal fund total of more than $1 billion falls far below California's allocations of $95,339,061 and New York's of $62,533,275.

However, the Mountain State's population is less than two million compared with the populations of California and New York, both above 17 million.

The figures compiled in the headquarters of OEO Director Sargent Shriver show the largest chunk of West Virginia funds went to work experience programs.

Margaret Truman Mum About Johnson Girls

NEW YORK (AP) — The former Margaret Truman, who had her trials and tribulations as the daughter of President Harry S. Truman, Sunday night refrained from giving the girls now in the White House any unsolicited advice.

Now Mrs. Clifton Daniel, she was asked to comment on Luci Johnson's widely publicized romance.

At a dinner of the Zionist Organization of America, Mrs. Daniel said of Luci: "I'll do for her what nobody did for me. I'll say it's none of my business."

Do Women, Not Men, Dye To Flirt?

NEW YORK (AP) — A man will dye, dye, dye for his job, but not for the woman next door.

Sales of men's hair coloring products have boomed 73.3 per cent this year, the biggest jump in the men's toiletries field. Barbers report a big business it touching up the gray.

Dr. W. G. Eliasberg, a psychiatrist and author, says older men color their hair because they are afraid of losing their jobs to younger men, not because they want to enhance their sex appeal.

"Some men make sex their careers. On the whole, these are the real exceptions," he said. "The man at age 40 to 45 who hasn't sown his wild oats is an exception, and an industry can't be built on him."

What the hair coloring industry is built on, he said, is the man who is concerned about his career.

"It is a matter of economics," Eliasberg said. "You must not look 40 if you still want to be promoted. So if you have the bad luck to lose your hair or have it turn gray, you cover it up."

Eliasberg, who has a full shock of white hair, said in an interview that prejudices against wigs, wiglets, hair spray and coloring have fallen.

"There is a trend for both sexes toward rejuvenation, to appear younger than you have the misfortune of being," Eliasberg said. "You have to appear youthful. Everyone who is in that boat does it."

"All these people live under the same pressures of rejuvenation. They are 40 to 45, the economic pressures are increasing. Their central motive is to keep young, and if not to be young, to appear young."

and makes them feel they are not too old for promotion," he said.

"Sex enters very infrequently. A man that age is domesticated to such an extent that only occasionally will he want to flirt with his neighbor's wife."

"But with women, it is different. They are worried about their appeal," he said.

Yes, in Ohio, electricity has remained one of the biggest bargains in the family budget!

How did it happen?

A large part of the answer is found in Ohio's historically favorable business climate. Over the years the electric utility companies have been able to raise the many millions of dollars needed to make additions and improvements to their facilities. Through improvements they have kept the price of electricity down. Your increased use of electricity has helped, too.

Ammer . . .

two years with C. William O'Neill, who later became Ohio's governor. He was twice-elected as prosecuting attorney of Pickaway County on the GOP ticket and served a total of 4½ years. He was also engaged in the private practice of law for five years.

THE JUDGE is a life-long resident of Circleville. His late father, Moses S. Ammer, operated a grocery store in the downtown area for about 45 years.

He received his law degrees from Ohio State University and served for 3½ years in the U.S. Army during World War II.

Judge Ammer has been active in various civic organizations for many years. He is a member of all Masonic bodies, Eastern Star, Shrine, Knights of Pythias, American Legion, Elks, Farm Bureau, Chamber of Commerce and the Kiwanis Club.

Professionally, the judge is now vice president of the Ohio Common Pleas Judges Assn. and is chairman of the Criminal Law Committee of the Ohio State Bar Assn.

A member of the Methodist Church, he has been president of the local Red Cross and Cancer organizations and is now serving as director of the Tuberculosis and Health Assn.

Judge Ammer is the first candidate to announce his interest in the Appeals Court in the 15-county area. Indications are the incumbent in the race will be Judge William B. Brown of Ross County. Other two members of the court are Judge Marshall Carlisle, Jackson, and Judge Gordon Gray, Athens.

In recent years, the only other Pickaway Countian to serve on the Appeals Court was Judge William D. Radcliff, who is now the administrative assistant of the Ohio Supreme Court.

$28.6 Million Given West Virginia Poor

WASHINGTON (AP) — West Virginia, whose economic plight served as one of the chief inspirations for what the administration calls its "War on Poverty", has received $28,630,515 in federal funds to improve the lot of the poor.

The Office of Economic Opportunity listed this total in a breakdown of anti-poverty campaign allocations as of Nov. 1.

West Virginia's portion of the federal fund total of more than $1 billion falls far below California's allocations of $95,339,061 and New York's of $62,533,275.

However, the Mountain State's population is less than two million compared with the populations of California and New York, both above 17 million.

The figures compiled in the headquarters of OEO Director Sargent Shriver show the largest chunk of West Virginia funds went to work experience programs.

Margaret Truman Mum About Johnson Girls

NEW YORK (AP)—The former Margaret Truman, who had her trials and tribulations as the daughter of President Harry S. Truman, Sunday night refrained from giving the girls now in the White House any unsolicited advice.

Now Mrs. Clifton Daniel, she was asked to comment on Luci Johnson's widely publicized romance.

At a dinner of the Zionist Organization of America, Mrs. Daniel said of Luci: "I'll do for her what nobody did for me. I'll say it's none of my business."

Do Women, Not Men, Dye To Flirt?

NEW YORK (AP) — A man will dye, dye, dye for his job, but not for the woman next door.

Sales of men's hair coloring products have boomed 73.3 per cent this year, the biggest jump in the men's toiletries field. Barbers report a big business in touching up the gray.

Dr. W. G. Eliasberg, a psychiatrist and author, says older men color their hair because they are afraid of losing their jobs to younger men, not because they want to enhance their sex appeal.

"Some men make sex their careers. On the whole, these are the real exceptions," he said. "The man at age 40 to 45 who hasn't sown his wild oats is an exception, and an industry can't be built on him."

What the hair coloring industry is built on, he said, is the man who is concerned about his career.

"It is a matter of economics," Eliasberg said. "You must not look 40 if you still want to be promoted. So if you have the bad luck to lose your hair or have it turn gray, you cover up."

Eliasberg, who has a full shock of white hair, said in an interview that prejudices against wigs, wiglets, hair spray and coloring have fallen.

"There is a trend for both sexes toward rejuvenation, to appear younger than you have the misfortune of being," Eliasberg said. "You have to appear youthful. Everyone who is in that boat does it."

"All these people live under the same pressures of rejuvenation. They are 40 to 45, the economic pressures are increasing. Their central motive is to keep young, and if not to be young, to appear young."

"It increases their security and makes them feel they are not too old for promotion," he said.

"Sex enters very infrequently. A man that age is domesticated to such an extent that only occasionally will he want to flirt with his neighbor's wife."

"But with women, it is different. They are worried about their appeal," he said.

Yes, in Ohio, electricity has remained one of the biggest bargains in the family budget!

How did it happen?

A large part of the answer is found in Ohio's historically favorable business climate. Over the years the electric utility companies have been able to raise the many millions of dollars needed to make additions and improvements to their facilities. Through improvements they have kept the price of electricity down. Your increased use of electricity has helped, too.

Tiger Wrestlers Host Whitehall

The Circleville High School wrestling team opens the 1965 season 4:30 p. m. Thursday, hosting Whitehall.

Grappling mentor, Dave LaBounty, is pleased with a turnout of nearly 50 boys for the grunt and groan sport here.

However he noted Whitehall should have a veteran contingent returning, including defending district champion, Steve Berry.

Berry wrestled at 120 pounds last year, but may move up a notch in weight, the Tiger mentor reports.

CIRCLEVILLE has four returning lettermen in Mark Lindsey, 112-pounder, a junior; John Butts, who will compete in the 120 class, a senior; Ronnie Miller, a 145-pound junior and Jim Archer, a 165-pound senior.

Although he has only four lettermen, LaBounty feels he has good depth and experience at most positions.

A pair of sophomores, Steve Nelson and Bruce Pontious show good promise in the 103 class.

Another sophomore, Dave Chamberlain, is listed as a probable starter in the 120 pound class.

At 127, LaBounty has the junior.

Little All-America '11' Features Defensive Stars

NEW YORK (AP)—Formerly, football fanatics glued their uninterrupted gaze on the ball carrier and paid no attention to the defense.

All that has changed in the past decade and if the 1965 Associated Press Little All-American team could be assembled for an All-Star fary, two jovial behemoths on defense would be as much of an attraction as any fancy-stepping halfback.

To date, the wrestling squad has no 175 pounder, although LaBounty is hoping Tom Fletcher will come out for the sport.

Heavyweights this year include Deward Shaeffer, a junior and Arnold Martin, a senior.

Oilers Remain Undeclared in TV Cage Loop

Circleville Oil defeated Scioto Elks, 92-85, to remain undefeated in the Teays Valley Independent Basketball league.

In other games Sunday, Ashville IGA defeated Commercial Point, 73-66, and Noel's King Boy outscored Grove City, 99-76.

For the winning Oilmen, Tom Harber exploded for 27 points while his teammates Bob Eitel and Ray Reinchild and Bill Hoover came up with 21, 17 and 16 respectively.

In the Elks-Oil tilt, three players hit 20 points or more for the losers. Bill Johnson tallied 26, Tom Hampton 24 and Jake Bailey 20 for Scioto.

IGA's winning effort was paced by Dick Tucker's 18 points but Jon Warden gained game scoring honors with a 21 marker production for Commercial.

High point laurels for the afternoon's three game card went to Carvel Simmons of Noel's King Boy. He tossed in 37, coming on 16 field goals and five shots from the foul line. Phil Reese had 27 points for the King Boy quintet. The losing Grove City unit had Bill Butchfield as the leader with 22 points.

St. Louis Lands Iowa's Star End

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Professional football's signing war had its first post-draft skirmish today with defensive end Dave Long of Iowa the key figure.

Both the St. Louis Cardinals of the National Football League and the Houston Oilers of the American League claimed to have Long's signature on contracts. Long was drafted in the third round of Saturday's NFL draft by St. Louis and in the sixth round of the AFL draft by Houston.

OU Cagers Get Nod in Mid-Am Race

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—It's Ohio University again, say the writers and broadcasters who cover Mid-American Conference basketball.

The conference news media association announced today a poll of its members tabs the Bobcats to repeat as champions.

Miami, co-titlist last year but beaten by Ohio U. in a playoff for an NCAA tournament berth, is a close second choice.

In the 7-6-5-4-3-2-1 voting system, the preseason pickers gave Coach Jim Snyder's Bobcats 87 points including 63 on nine first place votes. Miami got three first place votes and Bowling Green two, rounding out the 14 ballots.

The ratings: Ohio U. 87, Miami 84, Bowling Green 53, Western Michigan and Kent State 49 each, Marshall 42 and Toledo 26.

Six of the Mid-Am teams launched their nonconference campaigns Wednesday night.

Dartmouth Awarded 1965 Lambert Trophy

NEW YORK (AP) — Dartmouth is the 1965 winner of the Lambert Trophy.

Dartmouth's selection as Lambert winner designates the Indians as the East's top major college football team.

The Indians, who finished with a perfect 9-0 record and a 28-14 triumph over Princeton in their showdown for the Ivy League title, got 11 first-place votes and one second. The other first went to Syracuse, 7-3.

But the dispute seemed destined to end before it really started. Houston owner Bud Adams, who said he had signed Long Friday night was resigned to letting him go to the Cardinals.

"He signed, as I remember it, Friday evening," Adams said. "We made a mistake by not having him sign again the next day. We sent our man out on other chores when we should have had him stick around and get that second signature."

The Houston owner said every pro team uses the double signing. Clubs don't want to waste a high draft choice on a boy unless they have him nailed, preferably on the dotted line, Adams said.

The loss of Long seemed to make Adams even more determined to snare his No. 1 draft choice, Texas linebacker Tommy Nobis, who could be the Joe Namath in dollars and cents of this year's crop of draftees.

The New York Jets reportedly paid Namath $400,000 last year and Adams said he was ready to go pat that figure to get Nobis in an Oiler uniform.

Nobis was the first player tabbed in the NFL draft when the Atlanta Falcons named him.

The husky Longhorn linebacker spent Monday touring Atlanta with Falcon owner Rankin Smith and presumably listening to the new franchise's offer.

Meanwhile, the Falcons jumped into the lead in the battle of the bankroll with nine players signed. Smith added three signatures Monday, getting backs Ken Reaves of Norfolk State and Willie Asbury of Kent State, both fourth-round picks, and fullback Bill Johnson of the University of the South, a seventh-round selection.

In the American League, Boston signed four players including its first and second choices, Karl Singer of Purdue and Jim Boudreaux of Louisiana Tech. Both were picked by Cleveland in the NFL, Singer on the 13th round and Boudreaux in the 19th.

The Patriots also signed two other Louisiana Tech players, tackle Dan Irby, picked No. 6, and quarterback Bill Laird, selected in the 15th round.

Baltimore of the NFL signed three players but lost two others to the AFL. The Colts reached terms with North Carolina tackle Dave Ellis, No. 7, Auburn halfback Gerald Gross, No. 9, and Benedict College defensive end Claude Brownlee, No. 10.

But the Colts lost their fourth-round choice, Mississippi State fullback Toyle Grange to Houston and their 11th selection, Pittsburgh halfback Eric Crabtree to Denver.

San Francisco of the NFL signed Georgia quarterback Preston Riddlehuber, their 11th-round pick. He had been chosen in the AFL's 19th round by New York.

Little All-America '11' Features Defensive Stars

NEW YORK (AP)—Formerly, football fanatics glued their uninterrupted gaze on the ball carrier and paid no attention to the defense.

All that has changed in the past decade and if the 1965 Associated Press Little All-American team could be assembled for an All-Star fary, two jovial behemoths on defense would be as much of an attraction as any fancy-stepping halfback.

They are Frank Cornish, a 285-pound tackle from Grambling, and Willie Lanier of Morgan State, a junior linebacker who has never played in a losing game as a collegian. Every time Morgan State has lost in the past three years came with Lanier on the bench because of injuries.

For sheer bulk, Cornish is the biggest man on the 22-player offensive-defensive squad picked by The Associated Press in conjunction with football experts throughout the country. His poundage is stretched over a steel-hard frame that towers 6-7 feet.

Lanier is 6-1 and weighs 230 pounds. He is a speedster who has averaged 12 unassisted tackles a game and scored two touchdowns this season, once via a recovered fumble and the other following an interception.

Coach Earl Banks says Lanier is the best football player at Morgan State since the days of Roosevelt Brown, a National League standout for more than a decade.

Cornish's presence on the defense platoon and Willie Young's on the offensive forward wall makes Grambling the only college to place two men on the first team.

The first tem on offense lists a trio of repeaters from the All-Star team of a year ago in Tom Mitchell of Bucknell at end, Dan Summers of Arkansas State at guard and Randy Schultz of the State College of Iowa at fullback.

Robert Burles of Willamette, a 226-pound tackle, makes his second appearance on the defensive line-up.

Those who moved up from the second team of a year ago were Allen Smith of Findlay, a ball-carrying halfback; Marvin Peterson, Pacific Lutheran's steady center; Tim Chilcutt, defensive genius at Austin Peay State; and Randy Johnson Texas A&I quarterback.

Green Says Browns To Stay High

CLEVELAND (AP) — "We'll play Sunday like it was our first game," Cleveland Browns halfback Ernie Green told the Touchdown Club.

Green was talking Monday about the possibility that the Browns may slack off now that they've clinched the Eastern Conference championship in the National Football League.

The Browns play the Washington Redskins here Sunday, then finish the regular season at Los Angeles and St. Louis. Cleveland's opponent in the Jan. 2 NFL title game still hasn't been decided in the Western Conference.

Looking back over the Browns' 9-2 record, Green said part of the team's success could be attributed to a strong bench corps.

"We had the capable replacements to fill in when fellows were injured," he said. "Other teams suffered injuries and didn't have the people to come off the bench and do the job."

The Browns' halfback also commented on the long wait for the title game. "It may have bothered Baltimore last year," he said. "We believe they underestimated us. We hope the same thing won't happen. I think it will be a different story with us. I believe we have a mature attitude."

The Browns beat the Colts 27-0 for the title last year.

Miami, co-titlist last year but beaten by Ohio U. in a playoff for an NCAA tournament berth, is a close second choice.

In the 7-6-5-4-3-2-1 voting system, the preseason pickers gave Coach Jim Snyder's Bobcats 87 points including 63 on nine first place votes. Miami got three first place votes and Bowling Green two, rounding out the 14 ballots.

The ratings: Ohio U. 87, Miami 84, Bowling Green 53, Western Michigan and Kent State 49 each, Marshall 42 and Toledo 26. Six of the Mid-Am teams launch their nonconference campaigns Wednesday night.

Dartmouth Awarded 1965 Lambert Trophy

NEW YORK (AP) — Dartmouth is the 1965 winner of the Lambert Trophy.

Dartmouth's selection as Lambert winner designates the Indians as the East's top major college football team.

The Indians, who finished with a perfect 9-0 record and a 28-14 triumph over Princeton in their showdown for the Ivy League title, got 11 first-place votes and one second. The other first went to Syracuse, 7-3.

Oilers Remain Undefeated in TV Cage Loop

Circleville Oil defeated Scioto Elks, 92-85, to remain undefeated in the Teays Valley Independent Basketball league.

In other games Sunday, Ashville IGA defeated Commercial Point, 73-66, and Noel's King Boy outscored Grove City, 99-76.

For the winning Oilmen, Tom Harber exploded for 27 points while his teammates Bob Eitel and Ray Reinchild and Bill Hoover came up with 21, 17 and 16 respectively.

In the Elks-Oil tilt, three players hit 20 points or more for the losers. Bill Johnson tallied 26, Tom Hampton 24 and Jake Bailey 20 for Scioto.

IGA's winning effort was paced by Dick Tucker's 18 points but Jon Warden gained game scoring honors with a 21 marker production for Commercial.

High point laurels for the afternoon's three game card went to Carvel Simmons of Noel's King Boy. He tossed in 37, coming on 16 field goals and five shots from the foul line. Phil Roese had 27 points for the King Boy quintet. The losing Grove City unit had Bill Butchfield as the leader with 22 points.

Gallatin Is Fired As Knicks' Coach

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Knickerbockers are convinced the only way to escape the National Basketball Association depths is at a gallop. As a result Harry (The Horse) Gallatin is out of a job for the second time in 11 months.

The Knicks, mired in the NBA's Eastern Division cellar for the sixth straight season, fired Gallatin — their coach for less than a year — Monday and named Dick McGuire, another former New York ace, to succeed him.

Niles Tackle Signed By Boston Patriots

BOSTON, Mass. (AP)—Karl Singer, big Purdue offensive tackle from Niles, Ohio, has signed with the American Football League's Boston Patriots, who made him their No. 1 draft choice. Singer's coach, Jack Mollenkopf, called him the Big Ten's best blocking lineman.

Ole Miss has played in eight straight football bowls.

But the dispute seemed destined to end before it really started. Houston owner Bud Adams, who said he had signed Long Friday night was resigned to letting him go to the Cardinals.

"He signed, as I remember it, Friday evening," Adams said. "We made a mistake by not having him sign again the next day. We sent our man out on other chores when we should have had him stick around and get that second signature."

The Houston owner said every pro team uses the double signing. Clubs don't want to waste a high draft choice on a boy unless they have him nailed, preferably on the dotted line, Adams said.

The loss of Long seemed to make Adams even more determined to snare his No. 1 draft choice, Texas linebacker Tom Nobis, who could be the Joe Namath in dollars and cents of this year's crop of draftees.

The New York Jets reportedly paid Namath $400,000 last year and Adams said he was ready to go pat that figure to get Nobis in an Oiler uniform.

Nobis was the first player tabbed in the NFL draft when the Atlanta Falcons named him.

The husky Longhorn linebacker spent Monday touring Atlanta with Falcon owner Rankin Smith and presumably listening to the new franchise's offer.

Meanwhile, the Falcons jumped into the lead in the battle of the bankroll with nine players signed. Smith added three signatures Monday, getting backs Ken Reaves of Norfolk State and Willie Asbury of Kent State, both fourth-round picks, and fullback Bill Johnson of the University of the South, a seventh-round selection.

In the American League, Boston signed four players including its first and second choices, Karl Singer of Purdue and Jim Boudreaux of Louisiana Tech. Both were picked by Cleveland in the NFL, Singer on the 13th round and Boudreaux in the 19th.

The Patriots also signed two other Louisiana Tech players, tackle Dan Irby, picked No. 6, and quarterback Bill Laird, selected in the 15th round.

Baltimore of the NFL signed three players but lost two others to the AFL. The Colts reached terms with North Carolina tackle Dave Ellis, No. 7, Auburn halfback Gerald Gross, No. 9, and Benedict College defensive end Claude Brownlee, No. 10.

But the Colts lost their fourth-round choice, Mississippi State fullback Toyle Grange to Houston and their 11th selection, Pittsburgh halfback Eric Crabtree to Denver.

San Francisco of the NFL signed Georgia quarterback Preston Riddlehuber, their 11th-round pick. He had been chosen in the AFL's 19th round by New York.
